Schools of Agriculture Making for Efficiency of the Coming Farmer

The world has no place to-day for the uneducated man or woman, neither is there any excuse for those who have not had some schooling. Schools of various conditions and kinds surround us on every side. In the various cities of Canada first class night schools are run regularly during the winter months, which are opened to boys and girls alike, while in the country, there are technical schools where boys and girls are taught everything needed to enable them to make a success of life.

In 1914, the Province of Alberta had established—at Vermillion, Claresholm and Olds—provincial schools of agriculture. There are four; to-morrow there will be six, one each at Raymond and Gleichen, opening in connection with the first graded demonstration farms already established there. They have as principals, practical experienced farmers, who have as their assistants, equally practical specialists in all lines of agricultural education, livestock, poultry, carpentry, farm machinery, dairying, crop selection, soil chemistry and in fact, everything that will give the boy such knowledge and practice that he will be able to make the business of farming a pleasure and more profitable occupation.

Every progressive country now recognizes the necessity of giving its boys and girls the best possible educational advantages as preparation for whatever life they may elect to follow, and here is education along attractive and practical lines. By leaving these schools on government demonstration farms, practical demonstration of subjects discussed daily in class are available, and at all times the assistance of the farm superintendents is at hand. The cost of the 20 acres on each farm are set aside as experimental plots, which are under the cultivation and care of the students.

Could the hired man or boy of earlier days take up the farmer's carpentry tools and turn out the needed wagon-box in workmanlike manner? Could he seal the inside of a new house? Bend a whiffletree? Could he mend a window frame? Construct a wheelbarrow? Replace a front door? A fence? A gate, or the hundred and one other regular jobs that are required in the operation of a farm?

Could the hired man of earlier days handle the smith's forge and produce a sharper plow? Make a harness, a chain? Bend up a hook? A clevis? A clip? A whiffletree end? A wagon-box? A wheelbarrow? A shoe? Care for the horse's feet and shoe him, and often frequently occurring repair jobs that are part and parcel of farm life? Could the hired man tell what all his thoroughbred bull or dairy herd, or champion stallion when it falls sick, or provide the treatment to restore it to health and productivity? Or judge his cattle and horses for soundness and quality? Of course he couldn't.

Canada and the Seven Seas

British Columbia Shipping Assuming Large Proportions

The Minister of Marine for Canada states that the export trade from British Columbia is only in its infancy. The Government are at present running ships to and from Australia and New Zealand and also to the United Kingdom. These ships so far have had no difficulty in obtaining large consignments of goods. The Canadian Merchant Marine will operate a line to India on November 1st. They have also one consideration running ships from British Columbia ports to West Africa, to South America and the West Indies. When all their ships are completed the Government will have sixteen in commission of 12,000 net tons, which will be operated from British Columbia.

Rubber Trade Hundred Years Old

The hundredth birthday of rubber as an article of commerce was celebrated on June 11th, 1914, at Toronto, Ont. It is also the second largest tonnage of "caucho" (rubber) to be shipped to India under its original name, arriving in Britain, but solely as curiosities.

Maps and Their Making

Britain Has Been Very Carefully Chartered to Small Details.

Map making is an industry that is little known, although extremely important, says Tit-Bits.

The oldest map in existence is a mummy in Turin. It is a fragment of papyrus covered with lines and quaint markings, and it gives, besides the rivers, the crocodiles and fish swimming in them. It dates from 1370 B.C.

There is a curious map in the library of Herford Cathedral. It is six feet four inches high and five feet wide, drawn on vellum, and enclosed in a case with folding doors.

Map making has now reached such a degree of perfection and accuracy that one can locate every tree in the remotest village in the United Kingdom.

The whole of the British Isles have been resurveyed and charted by the Ordnance Survey since 1824, and this work goes on continuously.

At the headquarters of the Ordnance department at Southampton you can see the work of map making being carried out from the actual drawing of the maps to the reproduction of them by zincography.

The process is roughly as follows: First the land must be surveyed. Every inch of a district must be measured and its contour ascertained, every slight elevation recorded. The size and area of every object must be found, and the point of the compass or direction of the wind must be gauged accurately. When the field work is completed, the map is drawn on a scale of one inch to the mile. The survey is made by a team of men, one in each of the four corners of the field, one in the middle, one in the middle of the side, one in the middle of the end, one in the middle of the corner, one in the middle of the side, one in the middle of the end, one in the middle of the corner.

The engraving of maps is done on copper plates. It is possible to engrave a map on a single plate, but it is more usual to engrave it on a number of plates, and to bring them up to date. The printing used to be done from lithographic stones, but these have been discarded for aluminium plates, which, when heated by a certain process, provides a much more accurate and durable medium.

By the use of different aluminium plates it is possible to print maps in various colors. The printing is done on paper prepared by exposure to the air.

It is no uncommon thing for thirty or forty draughtsmen to be employed on one map. One man may be a specialist in outline drawing, another in indicating natural features of the country, etc., and so on.

The marvellous features of each examined portion of a map is due to the fact that it can be made on a very large scale, and later reduced by photography.

The most extraordinary map ever made is the map of the world, as presented by the late Czar of Russia to the French nation. Made of gold and studded with jewels, it was valued by a skilled Russian engineer.

Its value is supposed to be about $10,000. This map measured forty inches square, and was made of a material called jasper. The sea is represented by blue marble, and the cities and towns by precious stones.

It is not meant to apply strictly to such as have been in military hospitals. Some 4,000 patients are still being treated, and 1,300 are undernourished, 1,000 insane and 103 are incurable. The others are mostly surgical cases.

Manitoba Wheat

Manitoba's wheat crop this year is worth approximately $117,500,000 to the producers. This is the estimated value reached by the Commission on the export of the provincial Department of Agriculture on crop conditions. This gives an average yield of 10 bushels to the acre, and the estimated average given to wheat is 2,687,000 acres, giving a total estimated crop of 47,625,500.

The West's Big Crop

This Year's Wheat Yield Estimated at 280,000,000 Bushels.

The Dominion Government estimates that the yield of wheat in the three prairie provinces this year will be 280,000,000 bushels as compared with 193,000,000 bushels in 1913. It is also estimated that the total yield of oats will be 356,000,000 bushels and of flax about 8,000,000 bushels.

Manitoba's yield of wheat is estimated at 40,800,000 bushels; Saskatchewan, 168,800,000 bushels, and Alberta's, 82,972,000. The Manitoba yield is a decline of about half a million bushels, but Saskatchewan and Alberta's is up about 48,000,000 bushels.

Alberta will have the largest crop in the history of the province. The wheat crop in 1913 was 60,000,000 bushels valued at $30,000,000. In 1914 the yield was 34,750,000, valued at $83,400,000. The latest federal official estimate of this year's crop is 82,972,000 bushels, which, taken at say, $2.60 a bushel, will bring Alberta farmers a huge sum of $215,728,000. This means, in other words, that the bumper yield of 1915, with this year, increased over four-fold in value. Canadian, assuming that approximately the present price of wheat holds.

Reports from throughout Western Canada give proof that the grain this year is grading much higher than has been the case for a number of years. This is due to the fact that the weather conditions which will render the western crop much more valuable than usual and will constitute surprises for a number of years.

Prost either in the concluding weeks of August or at the beginning of September have been a prolific crop of grain. The Association of the Northern provinces of the province and the greater part of the west has been formerly free from frosts at a late date. The grain has been protected from the effects of the weather, which has been a great help to the grain. The circumstances means many thousands of dollars more for the farmer. In Western Canada, the prevailing price of wheat this month would mean about six hundred million dollars distributed to the population of the west. When this year's wheat is sold, the western provinces for wheat alone.

When this year's wheat is sold, the western provinces for wheat alone. The value of the wheat is added to the sum which will be produced for other grains, root crops, livestock and poultry, it must be considered that the prairie provinces are the richest in the Dominion.

Wealth of Northland

Over 2,500,000 Bushels Grain in Northern Alberta.

"Between one million five hundred thousand and three million bushels will be the total yield of all grains in the country north of Edmonton, including the farming territories along the border of the Edmonton, Dominion and British Columbia, and the Alberta and Great Waterways line, according to estimates prepared by railway authorities.

The whole will be of an exceptionally high standard in regard to quality, and railway officials anticipate that the northern railway systems will be in a good state of repair and entirely adequate to meet the splendid crops to be reported at Ponca, Compe, at Lake Saskatchewan and in the Grand Prairie district. Territory lying between Peace River and the celebrated Waterton district, are termed wonderful by farmers themselves. As far north as the Peace River, excellent crops are also said to exist, with cutting operations proceeding as a result of the present favorable weather conditions.

Threshing has started in many places and its completion will greatly accelerate the yield. The weather is good, and, of course, an approximate one. At the same time, however, railway officials declare it to be conservative.

U.S. Admires Our Housing Plan

A special article on the housing question is published in the New York World, urging the government to "look" as it were, "to what Canada has done." Writing from Ottawa, the World special correspondent says: "Our business-like little neighbor has tackled the housing problem and taken a fall out of it."

Manitoba Community Clubs Doing Splendid Work in Rural Districts

To develop in the members of the community the art of living together in the spirit of the golden rule is the high ideal of the community club movement in Canada. Excluding anything suggestive of sectarianism, though yet in the first stages of growth, has been of inestimable benefit to the citizens of every community in which a branch has been established, especially in rural districts. Through the incubation of its aims and ideals a spirit of co-operation has been formed among the many and varied institutions of country districts that have resulted in the preservation of the community centre, the sharing of community tasks, and the betterment of community conditions.

The success of the movement of club idea in Manitoba was spontaneous, and there are already existing in the province thirty-four organizations in a flourishing condition. The work of the clubs has been of special benefit in the rural districts, where isolation and lack of social intercourse so often accompany the days of early settlement have been largely supplanted by the workings of the clubs, and the hardships which often accompany pioneering have been softened by the golden rule.

But its work in the older settled sections is immense and of wide scope. To help improve living conditions, to make life more wholesome, more attractive, and more complete—this has been, and is, the chief aim of the community club in the farming districts. The clubs have been instrumental in providing lectures from the universities and in seeing that there were substantial addresses present to hear them; agricultural catalogues have been staged in a number of places; debates on problems of public interest have been held. Valuable work has been done among the younger generation—Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, and various kinds of teams organized, and all kinds of team sports prepared and carried out. Working in co-operation with the Public Health Board, questions on matters of health and hygiene have had the attention of the clubs, discussions aroused, lectures arranged, and active work in the dissemination of educational propaganda.

Industrial Growth of West

Just Beginning to Realize the Potential Wealth of the Prairie Provinces.

Industrial development in Western Canada is proceeding at a rate little appreciated by people generally. The provincial governments in the prairie provinces are realizing as never before the possibilities of their natural resources. To-day there are more than 700 members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association located west of the Great Lakes, whereas twenty years ago there was not one. There are 208 factories in actual operation in Alberta giving employment to 31,711 people. In Saskatchewan, 1918, there were 1,422 manufacturing establishments with a capital of $99,726,200, employing 8,188 persons and distributing in wages and salaries in that year $4,996,000. The known mineral resources of Saskatchewan include natural gas, sodium sulphate, sodium chloride, salts and potash, coal, clay, gold, silver, copper, asbestos, and other minerals. The possibilities of the prairie provinces represent a potential asset of great value and are awaiting development.

It is estimated that a railway built to Meadow Lake would bring out at least 300 carloads of fish from the northern lakes of Saskatchewan. A crew of 300 fishermen last year caught 300,000 pounds of whitefish in Buffalo Lake. Buffalo Lake is only one of the many smaller lakes in the northern part of Saskatchewan.

China's Coal Fields

Could Keep World in Fuel for Many Centuries.

The disinterested British miners would do well to read, Mark, Lennox and Inverly dig the fact that France has just bought 100,000 tons of coal from the Chinese government. This "deal" synchronizes with the admission by all the South African shipping lines to burn coal from the transvaal mines, and is an indication of the trend of things incident to the enormous amount of labor. China's coal supply is practically inexhaustible and is virtually untouchable. She has enough good coal to supply the needs of the world for the next 100 years. The coal-bearing areas of China have been estimated at more than 200,000 square miles—a territory twenty-five times the size of Wales, and is a remarkable fact that, except for the coal, the vast supply of coal is found all over the Empire and in every province.

A Heavy Touch

Farmers to Pay $14,000,000 on Wheat Charges.

Calgary, Alta.—The increased freight rates will make it costly for the farmer shipping his wheat to market. Grain shipments from Calgary to the head of the Great Lakes will be increased by 12 cents per bushel, and 12 cents per one hundred pounds. On shipments to the coast the cost per bushel will be increased by 12 cents. Experts have figured that Alberta farmers alone will contribute $14,000,000 additional to the railway as a result of the new rate.

Alberta's Resources

Agricultural Resources Greater Than Those of France and Germany Combined.

When the problem of separation of oil from the oil sands lying to the north of Edmonton, Alberta, has been solved in sufficient quantities to supply the world for "six hundred years" of oil, the oil sands of Alberta will be the richest source of oil in the world. This opinion was expressed by Dr. H. M. Tory, principal of the University of Alberta, in the course of an address before the Calgary Board of Trade recently. Dr. Tory stated that a member of the faculty of the university had been given the problem of separating oil from the oil sands of Alberta for ten years and that if he continued to make progress, naturally as he had done hitherto, the problem would be solved in six months. He stated that the oil sands of Alberta, the president of the university believed, contain the greatest body of oil to be found in the world. Speaking of some of the Alberta resources, he stated that the coal fields within a radius of fifty miles of Calgary are adequate to supply the chemical industry of the whole of Canada.

"The agricultural resources of Alberta are greater than those of France and Germany combined," said Dr. Tory, "and Germany, before the war, was producing about 100,000,000 bushels of wheat for her own soil. That a province possessed of such resources should be unable to produce enough to support its own population is a fact which is a little unbelievable. It is to be hoped that the day will never occur in the future in Alberta."

At the present time there are less than a million people in Alberta and it is not necessary for it to support a hundred times as many.

Good Crops in B. C.

Crop of Hay Yielded Five Tons to the Acre.

Heavy spring rains and beneficent sunshine in July and August have coaxed from the fertile soil of British Columbia, and especially Lillooet Island, the best crop garnered in years.

A Vancouver report states that near Bridgeport and Sideroad the finest crops ever grown anywhere. Near Branscombe is an oat field where the kinder could not get half a bushel, the grain being so high and heavy that a full cut choked the machine and the sheaves would not go through. This field yielded 100 bushels to the acre, and the crop would turn an experimental farm expert given any acre. Revue Bridge, of Richmond, boasts a crop of hay that yielded over 140 bushels to the acre, or more than 100 bushels per acre, 180 tons were cut, or an average of five tons per acre. At $30 a ton this is like $5,400.

William of Hohenzollern, former German emperor, has written his last testament. He has entrusted it to the keeping of Notary Schreier, at the castle of Sigmaringen, a Doorn despatch to the Daily Mail.

Thos. Guy, Louis Norgard and Chas. Foss were out on a hunting trip the first of the week. They came back with a good bag of ducks.

Joseph Taylor and R. E. Moffatt went to Calgary last week to hear McKenzie King. The parties who started for Lethbridge on Tuesday for the same purpose were forced to come back after making about seven miles, on account of bad roads.

Be sure to not miss "Under Crimson Skies," length 6,000 feet, star Elmo Lincoln. Previous hits: "Elmo, the Fearless," "Elmo, the Mighty," "Tarzan of the Apes," and the Blacksmith of Lincoln in "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin." Rex, Friday and Saturday, October 29-30.

The I. O. O. F. Hall was well filled last Sunday night to hear Mrs. McKenney speak on the Referendum. She urged all to come out on the 25th and vote, whether for or against, and predicted a good majority for prohibition. She stored the practice hitherto in vogue of going after the little fellows who transgressed the liquor laws and letting the influential ones go, and said that in future this must not be so. She admonished her hearers to vote "yes" on the 25th and said in effect that while the carrying of the plebiscite will not for the time being completely wipe out the liquor traffic, yet it will be a long step forward, and the prohibition forces will never cease their efforts until the traffic is completely wiped out. She said in effect that if the expected majority is given the prohibition forces will see that the Alberta government fulfills its pledge of "bone dry," and does away with the prescription evil, or it will be the end of the government.

THE BUSINESS MEN OF THE UNITED STATES are now enjoying unexampled prosperity as a result of nation-wide prohibition. Already one and one-half billion dollars of the two billion a year that was emptying itself into the booze swamp and breeding crime, misery, poverty and ill-health, has been diverted into wholesome channels and is enriching every legitimate business.

SIR JAMES HOPE SIMPSON, director and general manager of the BANK OF LIVERPOOL, says: "The United States has added to her efficiency by the most remarkable piece of legislation, namely, the prohibition of drink. In my judgment prohibition has made America the most formidable industrial competitor we have in the world."
